FRESH NAZI DISASTERS REPORTED FROM ALL SECTORS OF EASTERN AND WESTERN FRONTS TODAY; BRITISH "DESERT RATS" FIGHT WAY TO POINT NEAR BREMEN

Britons Reported Already in Suburbs of Brussels

ANADIANS AT MEPPEL

arrow the Nazi Escape Route Along The Zuider Zee

By International News Service
Fresh Nazi disasters were reported from almost every sector of the Eastern and Western fronts today.
The British Second Army's famed Fifth Armored (Desert Rats) division fought its way to within a few miles of Bremen and the Brussels radio reported the Britons already were fighting in the suburbs of the city.

Earlier dispatches printed by London papers said the port was under bombardment by British artillery.

Field dispatches said the British were moving in on the city in several columns and had engulfed the suburbs of Syke. Almost a third of the Reich will be cut off behind the lines when the British reach Bremen.

British paratroopers from the 10th Airborne Division smashed the outskirts of Neustadt, seven miles northwest of the key Nazi communications hub of Hannover.
American Ninth Army columns advanced from the south to within eight miles of Hannover.

At the same time the Canadian First Army cleared the Netherlands communications hub of Zutphen after a savage four-day battle and moved to within 1,000 yards of Meppel, narrowing the Nazi escape route along the shores of the Zuider Zee.

British paratroopers dropped behind Nazi lines in Holland in a light operation, already have established radio contact with the Canadians and are harassing the re-reating Germans streaming toward the Reich.

The U. S. 81st Division swept across the Weser river and captured Goettingen, 16 miles beyond the waterway and little more than 40 miles southwest of Berlin. In May Change Lay-Out of Langhorne Post Office

LANGHORNE, Apr. 9.—The April business meeting of Langhorne borough council took place on Friday at the home of the president, Fred Heese. Others in attendance were:
Robert Harris, Esq., George Ladner, Robert May, Paul Bennett, Arthur Walker, also Burgess George Tatlow, Jr., Street Commissioner Blaine Patterson, Constable Jesse Hibbs, and Special Officer Harold Soffel.
Progress was reported on renovations to the town hall, damaged by fire, and councilmen were informed the work will require about two more days.
A special session of council will be held on Friday evening, April 13th, at the Heese residence, when town hall matters will be discussed more thoroughly. It was stated last evening that postal authorities contemplate some changes in the post office housed in the borough hall.
Some new equipment may be placed, and the general lay-out changed.
Joseph Palmer, a member of council, was absent, due to illness.

FIREMEN BUSY
Firemen were called Saturday afternoon to fight a blaze in a closet of an apartment at Lincoln avenue and Cherry street; also a grass fire near Mill and Cedar streets.

UP-TO-PRESS-TIME WAR BULLETINS

(By International News Service)

GERMAN DEFENSES AT VIENNA CRUMBLE

Moscow.—German defenses in the heart of Vienna crumbled today as Russian armies on the far-flung Eastern front opened a new drive to topple the Silesian capital of Breslau.

Front line dispatches said that Soviet forces driving for the heart of the Austrian capital had split Nazi defense forces in two in that city. To the north other Red troops were intensifying their drives to mop up behind the lines resistance in Breslau, Koenigsberg and Conrard. German accounts of the Vienna fighting admitted that despite stubborn defense by SS formations, the Russians had penetrated farther into the heart of Vienna and carried the fighting into the northern section of the city.

The Soviets in bitter fighting engulfed three of Vienna's rail stations and destroyed more than 6,000 German officers and men.

U. S. 10TH ARMY TROOPS GAIN STRATEGIC GROUND

Guam.—U. S. Tenth Army troops supported by land-based aircraft but meeting the heaviest Japanese artillery fire ever experienced in the Pacific war, gained strategic ground today threatening two more key airbases in Okinawa.

The right flank of the 24th Army Corps hammered forward to seize a ridge position two miles above the northern tip of Machinato airstrip, which lies on the west coast of the island only 25 miles from Japan.

At the same time, the 32nd Regiment of the famed Seventh Division pushed ahead on the east coast of Okinawa, reaching a point only 1,500 yards north of Yonabaru airbase.

The Americans were backed by powerful concentrations of both land-based and naval artillery, as well as carrier and land-based aircraft. Revelation that Marine fighters are using the Yontan and Kadema airstrips—captured scarcely a week ago—as operational bases in support of the ground troops came shortly before the Yanks threatened the Ma-chinato and Yonabaru dromes.

J. ZIMMERMAN DIES SUDDENLY IN CROYDON

Middletown Twp. Man Dies
After Leaving Physician's Office

FARMED MANY YEARS

John Zimmerman, Middletown Township, died suddenly this morning after leaving the office of a physician in Croydon.

Zimmerman, who is in his late sixties, had gone to the office of Dr. A. Gonzalez, Croydon, complaining of suffering from a cold.
He was advised, states Dr. Gonzalez, to rest at the physician's office before returning home, but Zimmerman informed that duties awaited him.

A few minutes later Mrs. Gonzalez noticed that Zimmerman's truck had not been moved from where it was parked. Calling her husband's attention to it, Zimmerman was found dead on the sidewalk.

Bucks Co. Coroner, J. Alfred Rigby, was summoned, and issued a certificate stating that death was due to coronary thrombosis. The Rice, Anthony Vattimo, Clare Bowen, Delores Smallwood, Joan Vanzant, Ralph Furness. Several duets were sung by Elizabeth De Gregorio and Isabel Zanni. Dances were given by Patricia and Helene Coyne, Little Vincent Rea sang several numbers.

Cars were furnished by Harry Zobel, Frank McClintic, Frank Dean, Chaperones were Mrs. Harry Zobel and Mrs. Frank Dean.

MRS. WM. L. SNOWDEN

Mrs. Florence L. Snowden, who died in Philadelphia on Thursday, was buried in that city on Saturday.
Mrs. Snowden, wife of William L.
Snowden, was a frequent visitor in Bristol. She was a niece of the late Lewis J. Bevan. In addition to her husband she is survived by two sons, one serving in the army and the other a senior at the U. S. Naval Academy, Annapolis, Md. Mrs. L.
J. Bevan, of Cedar street, attended the funeral service on Saturday.

BOY OF 15, THROWN FROM A HORSE, DIES

Joseph D. Campbell, East Circle, Suffers Fracture of Skull

TAKEN TO HOSPITAL

A boy 15 years old was fatally injured yesterday when thrown from a horse which he volunteered to ride back to the stable.

Joseph Daniel Campbell, son of Joseph Walter Campbell and Mathilda Campbell, 354 East Circle, died last evening at 10 o'clock in Abington Hospital.

Campbell yesterday morning, shortly before noon, was riding his bicycle out Green Lane, near the P. R. R. underpass, when he met three equestriennes. One of the equestriennes, a girl, whose name the police have not yet obtained, was thrown from a horse, and Campbell was asked to ride the animal back to the stable located on the C. S. Wetherill property. As Campbell turned the horse into the stable yard, it again became unruly, and the boy not being a skilled rider, was thrown to the ground and sustained a fractured skull.

The boy was taken to the Abington Hospital in the ambulance of Bucks Co. Rescue Squad. He was a student of St. Mark's parochial school. He is survived in addition to his parents by two brothers, Nelson, who is in the U. S. Navy, being located in Hawaii; Francis, of Bristol; and four sisters, Elizabeth, Lillian, Jane, and Mrs. Eric Barth.

LATEST NEWS BULLETINS

Huge Fires Engulf Northwestern Germany

Paris.—Huge fires engulfed 10,000 square miles of northwestern Germany today, indicating unparalleled Nazi destruction of key cities in the path of Allied armies hammering through the suburban outskirts of Bremen and Hannover.

The Brussels radio reported British troops already in the actual suburbs of Bremen. Front-line dispatches indicated the early fall of Hannover, a major communications center with a normal population of 500,000.

British armored forces, overrunning the town of Riede, southeast of Bremen, struck to within five miles of Germany's second largest port.
Hannover was threatened by a pincers drive of the British Second Army and the U. S. Ninth Army from points seven miles from the heart of the city.

The German DNB agency at the same time reported that U. S. First Army troops in the Ruhr had crashed through German defenses north of the industrial city of Essen, home of the Krupp armaments works. DNB claimed the Americans before Essen had been checked and sealed off, but it was admitted an offensive toward Dortmund was making headway.

BACK TO EARTH

Not since beer and hard times put President Roosevelt into the White House have the people of the United States shown stronger signs of a return to common sense than during the winter just ended.

For twelve years we have been chasing rainbows and will-o'-the-wisps.

Many foreign nations, including those we are now defeating, pursued these mirages and fell into dictatorship and State-Socialism.

We of America have skirted extremely close to the edge.

For a time, following last November's election, it looked as though we could not avoid toppling over.

The New Deal left-wingers—the Wallaces and the Hillmans and the Hopkins—eagerly cried: "This is it, boys! We have a 'mandate'!"

But under the surface a change in public opinion was going on which was not entirely reflected in the election figures themselves.

The open and emphatic warnings in campaign speeches of the nearness of Communism, and growing uneasiness over financial and other policies, produced an exceedingly widespread though unspoken demand for a swing away from radical philosophies.

This undercurrent produced tangible results first in the branch of government most responsive to the will of the people—the National Congress.

In both the U. S. Senate and the House of Representatives there was a fusion of the less-radical elements—essentially those of the "Southern Democrats and Northern Republicans."

This is the partnership which the New Dealers have been frantically calling the "unholy alliance."

Actually there is nothing unholy about it; it is a coalition of patriotic Americans convinced that some of the domestic dangers which this nation faces are too important for party lines to be allowed to stand in the path of their solution.

Thus far in the new session of Congress, this alliance has exerted a stronger influence on the policies and the future of the United States than any other agency, including the President.

It was this alliance, for example, that broke up the "credit monopoly" plans of Henry Wallace by forcing the separation of the Reconstruction Finance Corporation and the Department of Commerce.

For the sake of getting "Dear Henry" a job, and as a bit of face-saving for the New Deal, the President had to sign and pretend to like a law that spiked forever the clever plan of the Wallace crowd to take over at one stroke all industry and commerce in the United States.

Likewise the alliance methodically and grimly bounced Aubrey Williams back into the oblivion where he belongs.

The grandiose schemes of the White House to finance all the other nations of the world in their post-war reconstruction, to use American tax-moneys through lend-lease for the direct benefit of the very foreign nations which would like to take our industrial production away from us, were also ditched by this coalition.

This scheme was revealed by a two-and-a-half billion dollar lend-lease gift to France—obviously intended to buy her support at San Francisco. In the background were

Miss Nancy Bingham Is Bride of Lt. J. G. Staub

PHILADELPHIA, Apr. 9.—The marriage of Miss Nancy Bingham daughter of the Rev. and Mrs.
James Julian Bingham, Philadelphia, to Lt. James Gordon Staub, U. S. N. R., occurred on Saturday afternoon at four o'clock in Oak Lane Methodist Church. The groom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. E. Elmer Staub, of Grosse Point Park, Mich.

The Rev. Mr. Bingham gave in daughter in marriage, and also performed the ceremony, assisted by the Rev. Michael Davis, pastor of the church.

The maid of honor was Miss Sarah Louise Bingham, sister of the bride; and the quartet of bridesmaids was inclusive of the Misses Shirley Hirst, Eleanor Oberfeld, Elizabeth Burrows and Malvina Maguire. Little Eleanor Foster, of Bristol, served as flower girl.

Arthur Staub, A. S., of the U. S.
N. R., a brother of the groom, was best man; and ushers included: Lt. Milton Staub, Lt. D. Momen and Lt. E. Bueller, all of the U. S.
Naval Reserve.

The bride wore a Duchess model ivory gown, made with built-up neck-line of net. Sleeves were long and tight, the bodice fitted, and the train was cut long and full. Her tulle veil was held with a band of satin, and she carried a prayer book with white orchids.

The attendants of the bride were gowned alike, in models of faile tulle in shades of pink. They were patterned with fitted bodices, built-up necklines of net, bracelet length sleeves and bouffant skirts.
The young women carried bouquets of spring flowers, with matching flowers in their hair.

A reception at the Oak Lane Review Club followed the ceremony.

ST. MARK'S PARISH TO OBSERVE 100TH ANNIVERSARY

Will Also Mark Diamond Jubilee of Present
Edifice

DATE SET IS JUNE 10TH

Will Also Mark The Golden Jubilee of Rev. Joseph E.
Murphy, Ordained 1895.

Announcement was made in St.
Mark's Church yesterday that plans are being made for a quadruple jubilee celebration, rare in the annals of any diocese, the tentative date of which is June 10th. The four events to be commemorated will be the One Hundredth Anniversary of the founding of the parish in 1845, the Diamond Jubilee of the present church, dedicated in 1870, the Golden Jubilee of the present pastor, Rev. Joseph E.
Murphy, who was ordained to the Priesthood in 1895, and the Silver Jubilee of the consecration of the Marble Altars, installed in St.
Mark's 25 years ago.

The people of St. Mark's are proud of their church and parish organization, whose growth has been like that of the borough itself.
Starting as a mission church 100 years ago, when Bristol was just beginning to show signs of its present municipal prosperity, the church has kept step with the growth of the town and both have reason to be proud of the advancement they have made.

His Eminence, D. Cardinal Donaghy, who has graciously consented to be present at St. Mark's and take part in the celebration, both as a mark of his esteem of the pastor, Father Murphy, and on account of the rare event it is the parish's privilege to commemorate. These preliminary arrangements had been made when he sudden sickness of Father Murphy caused a halt temporarily in the preparations begun, and the Cardinal's attendance and the nature of the celebration are, of course, contingent on Father Murphy's health. His improvement has been so marked in the past ten days or more that it is confidently hoped no postponement will be necessary.

Father Murphy's tenure of office as pastor of St. Mark's—over 31 years—is in itself a record seldom attained by any priest, as he has seen more than half of his parish grow from infancy to manhood and womanhood, and it is the earnest prayer of his people that he will be in the best of health to celebrate fittingly the goal not so often attained.

AS IT SHOULD BE

Hitler's name leads all the rest of the war criminals on the list being compiled by the United Nations War Crimes Commission.
That's very much as it should be.
And there seems no reason to worry because Hitler's name is the only one mentioned by the commission. There are plenty of others on the list, even if their names are being withheld.

The commission announces that actually five lists of war criminals have been prepared.
There are two lists of Germans.
There is one list of Japanese.
There is one list of Italians.
A fifth list includes an assortment of Albanians, Bulgarians, Hungarians, Italians and Rumanians.
It is explained that the names of everybody but Hitler are being kept secret to prevent forewarning suspects who then could escape. Furthermore, publication of the list might be used as a pretext for reprisals against helpless persons still under enemy control, the commission adds. Additional information is steadily being brought in and the hunt for war criminals already is under way.

One significant part of the commission's announcement said the commission "assumed that no immunity attached to heads of states and decided that a plea of superior orders, of itself, did not constitute justification for war crimes."

This leaves the field wide open for a very general roundup of persons who might have been involved in almost any way with atrocities and war crimes. And the no-immunity-for-heads-of-states stipulation certainly points an unerring finger—without naming names—at such characters as Mussolini and Hirohito. Which also is very much as it should be.

No list of war criminals would be complete without the presence of their names right up near the top in capital letters. And there will be no world wide protest if their punishment is inflicted on a gibbet.

ASTRAL DOME CAR

In postwar years travelers by train may climb aboard, mount to a seat in the astral dome and thereafter look over the landscape without hindrance, freed from the limitations of orthodox car windows.

The astral dome improvement of the car coach is announced by Ralph Budd, president of the Burlington Lines. A large glass dome not unlike a bomber blister is built into the top of the car over an upper level of seats to give the passenger freedom to survey the country through which he travels.

This innovation was developed by the styling division of the General Motors Corporation.
For years the brakeman on a conventional freight train, walking along the top of the cars, enjoyed the best opportunity to survey the scenery. This is now to be extended to the paying passenger, who will be riding high, wide and handsome.

The Japanese fleet's interest in the war seems to have dropped to the vanishing point.

ECHOES OF THE PAST

(By Courier Staff Member)

Review of the news as it appeared in the Bucks County Gazette issue dated at Bristol Sept. 11, 1884. The Gazette, a weekly newspaper published in Bristol, was discontinued following its merger with the Courier.

For several days the workmen on buildings in Burlington were compelled to suspend work on account of the heat, Bristol, which is situated on higher ground, is a little cooler than its neighbor, and the heat is not so stifling.

A live eel took a trip yesterday from the river through the water pipes to Henry G. Booz's residence.
It was captured and placed in the aquarium along with the gold fishes.

A stated meeting of the burgess and council was held at the council chamber last Monday evening.
Present, J. Wesley Wright, burgess; Nelson Green, A. Lechner, C. N. Peirce, G. A. Shoemaker, William Tabram, Jacob M. Winder and James Wright.

A statement having been made that the gas burners of the street lamps had been changed from three to five burners without any authority from council, the matter was referred to the street committee.

Gazette, issue of Sept. 18, 1884.)

The Misses Cabene reopened ger and Reuben T. Stare, employed by the Bucks County Bible Society.

. . . I. Collier, chairman.

Bristol Methodist Church has been thoroughly repaired, improved and beautified. The trustees last winter decided to make much needed improvements in the church property, the congregation expressed their approval by contributing $600 for the purpose, and the committee, J. S. Young, J. Wesley Wright, and George Loderbough, proceeded energetically with the work. During the summer months mechanics and artists were engaged in a thorough renovation of the entire building, the old ceiling gave place to a new one, graceful twin windows were introduced in place of the old—these windows were provided with lead sash and filled with stained glass of varied and delicate tints, the ceiling and walls were frescoed and decorated by a master artist, in colors at once soft, rich and charming, the painting and graining, the introduction of a chandelier of exquisite artistic workmanship, walnut pulpit and furniture, and crimson carpets complete and harmonize the whole. The Sunday School and class rooms have shared in these improvements, and are now cheerful and inviting. The outside appearance of the front has been greatly improved by the readjustment of the fence and gateways—affording a capacious entrance way. It is now a chaste and beautiful house in which to worship.

Cornwells Heights

A visitor of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Adam Lantz, is Harold Lantz, Yardley.

Mr. and Mrs. Benjamin Miehle, Croydon, were guests recently of Mrs. Clara Miehle.

Mrs. Andrew Budney, who was ill of a kidney ailment, is now recuperating at her home.

Anthony Favaro has received word that his brother, Pvt. William J. Favaro, has been transferred from the air corps to the infantry.
Pvt. Favaro is stationed in France.

Mrs. John Miehle has received word from her husband, Cpl. Miehle that he recently met her brother,

P. Carl Stenberg, Coxwain, in the Marianna Islands.

Mrs. John Zuchek and family are spending two weeks with Mrs.
Edward Nowake, Mayfair.

Seaman John Gendie has returned home for 30 days after being stationed at Pearl Harbor, T. H.

PFC Charles H. Cook, son of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Cook, has been transferred from Fletcher Hospital, Cleveland, O., to a hospital in Atlantic City, N. J. PFC Cook spent four recent days visiting his parents at their home.

HULMEVILLE

Mr. and Mrs. Matthew Amsel and children are moving from Washington avenue to the house on Lincoln avenue being vacated by Mrs. Anna Black and Howard Black. The latter two are changing their place of residence to the house vacated by the Amsels.

Mr. and Mrs. Louis Dunlap, Jr., have had as their guest the latter's mother, Mrs. Christian Graham, of Maryland.

plans for at least twenty billion dollars more loans to other countries.

But for the moment at least, thanks to Congress, it appears that the wealth and credit of this nation are to be used for the benefit of our own people, not their rivals abroad.

In the question of food, the cross-party anti-New Deal alliance in Congress is the public agency which is demanding that the American food supply be used first to feed the men, women and children of America—not as chips in an international poker game of pressure politics.

There are many other fields in which this new partnership has swung bureaucracy and pro-Communism back in the direction of common sense and public interest.

These include the clipping of the wings of the OPA, the refusal to risk dictatorship under the manpower draft law, the insistence that American interests be protected in such projects as the Bretton Woods international banking plans and the Mexican water pact, and the reminding of all members of the official White House family that Congress, not the Cabinet, is the official policy-making body of the United States.

Reforms in our government were badly needed.

They are being made by Congress in exactly the manner which the American Constitution planned.

The balance-wheel activities now going on in the Senate and House of Representatives deserve both the understanding and the support of the men and women of the nation.

THEY DON'T WANT YOUR PITY---

THEY NEED YOUR HELP!

Ask your weary fighters who stormed Rome what they think of the Wacs . . .

"Terrific!" they'll say. "Wacs handled those vital switchboards behind our lines like veterans!"

Ask your men who have bombed the spirit out of Germany what they have to say for the Wacs . . .

"Great!" they'll shout. "Wacs don't miss when they transmit our radio messages!"

Ask the wounded what they think of the Wacs in Army hospitals. They find it difficult to convey their immense gratitude — their deep respect for those patient, gentle women.

Ask a commanding officer of the United States Army how he rates the WAC. He'll tell you this . . .

"They're alert on their jobs, and they know their jobs!
They're soldiers—through and through. I wish I had more!"

Good soldiers...

Service Women and Men Are Aided by Auxiliary

Reports of gifts sent to service men and women, and also to other individuals were received at the meeting of American Legion Auxiliary, in Robert W. Bracken Post home, last evening. Mrs. Earl McLen presided.

Mrs. Harold H. Dettmer told of cakes of soap and 33 wash-cloths sent to the men at Naval Hospital, Philadelphia. Mrs. Thomas Lively told that candy and war stamps were forwarded to an "adopted" boy at Scotland School. A sample ditty bag was shown. A number of these will be made by a sewing club composed of members. They will be filled with useful items and distributed at Naval Hospital.

Seventeen members made reservations for the national president's dinner in Philadelphia on May 10th. Report on work at the "Little Sister" Canteen showed that several members of the Auxiliary have acted as hostesses there.

Birthday gift of war stamps were sent to the state president it was reported.

A card party is planned for April 10th, and donations sought for the same. The next meeting on May 10th, will be in honor of Mother's Day. Members are privileged to write their mothers or the mothers of servicemen or servicewomen.

Cinnamon buns and coffee were served by Mrs. William Griffith and Mrs. Dorothy Fechtenburg.

Today's Quiet Moment

By the Rev. Richard R. Gay Pastor, Neshaminy Methodist Church, Hulmeville

Our Father, we pray that the joy and significance of Easter might not fade from our minds and hearts. Keep us ever mindful that Christ is alive forevermore in the consciousness of each Christian.

O Father, teach us the secret of fellowship which gives courage for each day's tasks. Impart to us the realization of our oneness through allegiance to Christ and His way of life. Help us to think so earnestly about the message and mission of Christ that He may be born in our hearts.

Dear Lord, show us each day the means Thou hast prepared for Thy children to live without friction or jar. Help us to believe more wholeheartedly, pray more faithfully, and live more courageously. We pray in the Spirit of Christ. Amen.

COOKED A FINE DINNER; THEN THREW IT TO DOG

One lady recently stated that she used to throw her own dinner to the dog most of the time. It made her sick just to look at anything to eat. She was swollen with gas, full of bloating, had headaches, felt worn out and was badly constipated. Finally she got ERB-HELP and says she now eats everything in sight and digests it perfectly. Bowels are regular and normal. She is enjoying life once more and feels like "some other woman" since taking this New Compound. ERB-HELP contains 12 Great Herbs; they cleanse bowels, clear liver and kidneys. Miserable people soon feel different all over. So don't go on suffering! Get ERB-HELP. Col. G. O. VanOrden Praises Scout Work ing the past few months been elevated to that rank from lieutenant colonel, is the son of Colonel George VanOrden, of New Hope.

He writes to the officials of Boy Scouts of America in New York as follows:

Hq., 3rd Marine Division, F. P. O. San Francisco, Cal., September 10, 1944.
Boy Scouts of America,
New York, N. Y.

Gentlemen:

In the hope that you will humor an old Marine who, after 21 years general service including two years in the Pacific, has at last come to a full realization of the value and importance of Scouting to the young men of our country, I am enclosing a check which I ask you to accept in payment of "delinquent" dues from 1922 to whenever the funds run out. I would like to be able to say, in the spirit of "Once a Scout, always a Scout," that I have been a Scout since my 12th birthday.

In Michigan; Washington, D. C., and New England I had a lot of fun Scouting. When I finally went off to the Naval Academy, I had become an Eagle Scout and had been a senior patrol leader. Now I realize how much more I got out of it than just "fun"; how much more all of us and there were many, got out of it than we had before realized.

There are two aspects to it. One: In a battalion which it was my privilege to command for some time, we came to have some considerable reputation as jungle fighters. We knew how to "get along." These men were real woodsmen; they were good trackers. On patrol they were never once ambushed; in fact, on several occasions in one month my men turned the tables and bushwhacked the traps set for them—just because they knew how to read signs, detect camouflage and get around in the bush day or night. My men never suffered from diseases normally incidental to campaigning in the field; they knew how to be sanitary. Their camp craft was good. They knew how to feed themselves in the field. They knew all the little tricks that make the difference between being comfortable and being miserable, between being healthy and being sick, between being safe and sound in the jungle and being a sucker for the first "Jap" to cross their path. We used to talk it over; you learn about these things in the Marines, to some extent, but not to the degree our lads knew and practiced them. Well, the answer was not too hard to discover; what our lads were doing was no more than any good Scout learns to do by the time he is first class and has had a couple of summers' experience in the woods. And there were enough ex-Scouts in our outfit to show the greenhorns how to do it, how to get along—right from the start. That is angle number one—Scouting has saved the health and lives of countless thousands of our young men in this war with the Japanese.

Number two—and equally important: In my relationship with these men, over a period of two years, I observed a condition of "morals" that was amazing to one who has spent a lifetime among hard, rugged, single-minded groups of men, away from home and all restraining influences. This condition of "morals" was, of course, due to the morality of the subordinate leaders—the sergeants, the lieutenants, the captains; enlisted men of the Marine Corps always reflect the character of their immediate leader. With these lads we never had trouble with liquor, with women, with theft, with falsehood, with courage, nor with any one of the problems that usually come up in large bodies of men in the field. Considering that the quality of some breeding of all Marines come about equal, taking them in groups, there must have been a reason beyond that. There was—and you've guessed it—the great majority of my officers and noncommissioned officers were Scouts. They merely lived "Scouting" as they had been taught to do, and in so doing set an example that the others followed. For this reason, if for no other, I hope you will reinstate me into continuous membership.

From what I have said do not think my guys are pantywaists; they're not—they're the toughest, most rugged bunch of fighting men the world has ever seen (ask the enemy in the Solomons and the Marianas, if there are any left to ask). You don't have to be rotten to be a fighting man. As a matter of fact, with the exceptions that merely prove the rule, men of bad character will not stand up in battle; they just can't take it and fold every time the going gets tough. If you haven't got "it" in your heart, you can't make the team, and Scouting puts "it" there—strength, determination, fortitude, endurance, loyalty, aggressiveness, courage, self-reliance. If a kid has his heart full of that sort of stuff, there's no room left for weakness. Put that with the discipline of collective Scouting and you're turning out a man—be he a civilian or soldier.

All that, then, is why as my last act, so to speak, before leaving the Pacific for a visit home, I am writing you this letter. I just want to get back in ranks and help you keep the ball rolling.

Sincerely yours,
GEORGE O. VAN ORDEN,
Lt. Col., U. S. Marine Corps, and Mary Wil-

St. Mark's Parish To Observe 100th Anniversary

tained, the Golden Jubilee of his ordination.

It was announced in St. Mark's Church yesterday that in connection with this unique celebration, there will be published a history of the past hundred years of the parish and no expense will be spared to make this souvenir history one that will be treasured by each parishioner. Pictures were taken of each grade of pupils of St. Mark's last week for publication in the history, and in addition there will appear in this book pictures of former pastors and events connected with the past century of the parish that will be published for the first time. As an example of the care taken to make this history complete, the Library of Congress, Washington, D. C., was searched and there was secured from a church history now out of print a copy of the portrait of Rev. John Mackin, who as pastor of St. John's, Trenton, N. J., founded St. Mark's as a mission church in 1845, and built the first church. Pictures of the original school before being remodeled, the first church, the present church before the wings were added, and, of course, new pictures of all present parish buildings will be included.

The priests of St. Mark's yesterday asked the congregation to bring or send to the Rectory not later than tomorrow evening, any group picture or other picture, which might be of interest in the past history of the parish, or any picture of Bristol about the time of the founding of the parish 100 years ago, so that nothing that would add to the interest of this souvenir history will be omitted.

Fresh Nazi Disasters Reported From All Sectors addition to taking Goettingen Hospital, where 15,000 German wounded were housed, the Ninth Army penned 5,434 more prisoners along the fighting front.

Hard-hitting infantry divisions, mopping up behind the advance of Lieut. Gen. George S. Patton's racing armor, sent reinforcements to aid the Ninth in its mopping up operations against the German forces encircled in the Ruhr.

Farther south the Seventh Army's Tenth Armored Division encountered stiffening Nazi resistance in a drive which reached Grafsheim. One column of the tenth armored forces wheeled westward and gained ten miles in a stab against the German rear.

French First Army forces forged deeper into the Reich southeast of Karlsruhe and captured Pforzheim, while on the eastern front the Soviet Third Ukrainian Army hammered closer to the heart of Vienna, capturing three of the town's railroad stations in bitter street fighting.

More than 6,000 Germans were killed in the Vienna battle. Another 15,000 were captured when the Third White Russian Army broke into Koenigsberg in what appeared to be the final battle to end Nazi resistance in East Prussia.

Miss Poole knew what had happened. Stout did not know that there had been an accident until he was hailed by William F. Eisenhard, a borough employee who was working on the driveway into the pumping station and who witnessed the entire incident.

Miss Poole was taken to the office of her family physician.

United in marriage at an informal ceremony in Trenton, N. J., on April 4, 1895, Mr. and Mrs. Albert S. Caffey, the former for some years a member of the Doylestown police force, on Wednesday celebrated their golden wedding anniversary at Doylestown.

Mr. Caffey, a son of the late Pearson and Anna Caffey, Buckmanville, took as his bride Miss Helena Parsons, daughter of the late Robert and Mary Parsons, who resided in the Solebury section.

Immediately following the ceremony, the newly-weds took up their residence at Aqueetong, where Mr. Caffey farmed a number of years. They located in the County Seat 35 years ago.

Mr. and Mrs. Jacob F. Foster, of Morrisville, have received word that their son, Sgt. Jacob R. Foster, previously reported missing in action since Dec. 31 in Germany, is now a prisoner of war in Germany.

He was inducted in March of 1943, and has been overseas since Oct. 1944. He was formerly employed as manager of a gasoline station in Trenton, N. J. Sgt. Foster was serving with the 106th Division of the First Army.

Dinner Follows An Afternoon Wedding over a taffeta foundation, was in self-material in the form of ruffles. A narrow ruffle outlined the sweetheart neckline; and ruffles also edged the three-quarter length sleeves. The full skirt featured a cascade of ruffles down the back. The bride's finger-tip veil of net was attached to a cap of lace. She wore white satin slippers, and carried an arm bouquet of white roses.

Mrs. Joseph McIlvaine, the matron of honor, selected for the ceremony a floor-length gown of light blue mousseline de soie, with head-dress of matching flowers. Her shoulder veil was of blue tulle as were also her slippers, and she carried an arm bouquet of pink roses.

Dinner was served at the Stacy-Trent Hotel, terrace room, Trenton, N. J., with covers arranged for 75 guests.

YES! YOU CAN GET EXTRA RED POINTS

MEAT SHORTAGES make saving fats harder these days. But there may be ways to save that you are missing. Won't you please check suggestions below?

Our country needs fats so urgently to help make medicines, explosives, soaps, synthetic rubber and other essentials on the war and home fronts.

FISH—you're using more of it these days. Scrape every drop of grease from the pan in which you fry or broil it.

SAUSAGES—they're plentiful and yield lots of grease in the frying pan. (And if you parboil them first, don't forget to save the water and skim off the grease!)

UTILITY MEATS—are good for stews and soups. Skim the grease as they cook. Chill them afterwards and scoop off the fat that hardens on top. (Gravies too!)

HOT DOGS—you'll get at least a tablespoon or two of grease from the cooking water. Even a teaspoon helps!

FAT SCRAPS—save them all in a bowl in the icebox. Once a week melt them down and add them to the salvage can.

AND BE SURE to keep the can right out where it's handy! Drop by drop, it will fill up faster than you think. Then rush it to your meat dealer and get those 2 red points and 4 cents for every pound of fat. Start today! This message has been approved by WFA and OPA and paid for by Industry.

Mr. and Mrs. Dees are away for one week, and will upon their return take up residence in Philadelphia. The bride's travelling costume consisted of a two-piece pin stripe suit of gray, white straw hat, white gloves, black bag and slippers. She wore a lavender orchid corsage.

The bride, a graduate of Bristol high school, and of Rider College, Trenton, N. J., has been employed by Fleetwings, Inc., at plant 2. Mr. Dees, a graduate of Germantown high school, and of Drexel Institute of Technology, Philadelphia, is employed by the Selas Corp., Philadelphia.

The mother of the bride chose for the ceremony a navy blue crepe dress with trim of white lace; straw hat and gloves of white, and a lavender orchid corsage. Mrs. Dees, the groom's mother, selected a light blue crepe dress, matching hat with flower trim, and wore a lavender orchid.
